OFB's Dave Dillon receives Farm Bureau President's Award

Dave Dillon, executive vice president of the Oregon Farm Bureau, was honored with the Farm Bureau President's Award by OFB President Barry Bushue during the 83rd OFB Annual Meeting in Sunriver, Dec. 8-10, 2015.

The OFB President's Award honoree is selected by the sitting OFB president and is given to an individual who has displayed an outstanding level of vision, service, and leadership for the betterment of Oregon family agriculture.

"In his years at Oregon Farm Bureau, Dave Dillon has shown outstanding leadership, vision, dedication, and hard work for our organization," said OFB President Barry Bushue. "His level of service to and passion for Farm Bureau is unparalleled, and I am proud to honor his efforts with this well-deserved award."

The state's largest general farm organization, Oregon Farm Bureau (OFB) is a grassroots, nonpartisan, nonprofit organization representing the interests of the state's family farmers and ranchers in the public and policymaking arenas.

First established in Oregon in 1919, Farm Bureau is organized in all 36 counties and has 7,500 member families that are professionally engaged in agriculture. Barry Bushue, an east Multnomah County berry and nursery stock producer, is OFB's 15th president and also serves as vice president of American Farm Bureau.
